Take the first step to recovery

Getting lives back on track

At Priory we understand how an addiction can have a huge impact on a person's life; on their families, relationships and careers. We also know how tough it can be to ask for and obtain help, either for yourself or for a loved one.

Our addictions services make it quick and easy to access the best treatment for you. Priory's private addiction services are chosen by over 1,200 people every year who are looking for high quality support to beat an addiction.

Priory's national network of established addiction centres offers discreet treatment from the country's leading consultants and therapists. We support individuals, along with their friends and families throughout every stage of their journey to recovery, and have an unrivalled track record in turning lives around.

What do we treat?

We provide confidential treatment for all forms of addiction, including:

- + Alcohol
- + Cocaine
- + Cannabis
- + Psychoactive and illicit substances (legal highs)
- + Heroin and other opiates
- + Prescription drugs
- + Gambling
- + Shopping
- + Compulsive spending
- + Sex and love
- + Pornography
- + Internet

Priory also provides expert support for people with food-related addictions, such as over-eating, and we have industry-leading experts for a wide range of less common addiction issues.

We also identify and treat the underlying problems that are contributing to the addiction such as depression, anxiety, obsessive compulsive disorder (OCD), bipolar disorder and trauma.

Our services

Priory is trusted internationally as the leading provider of effective treatment for addictions. Everyone in our care receives a personalised treatment programme from Priory's expert team, made up of the best consultants and therapists in their field.

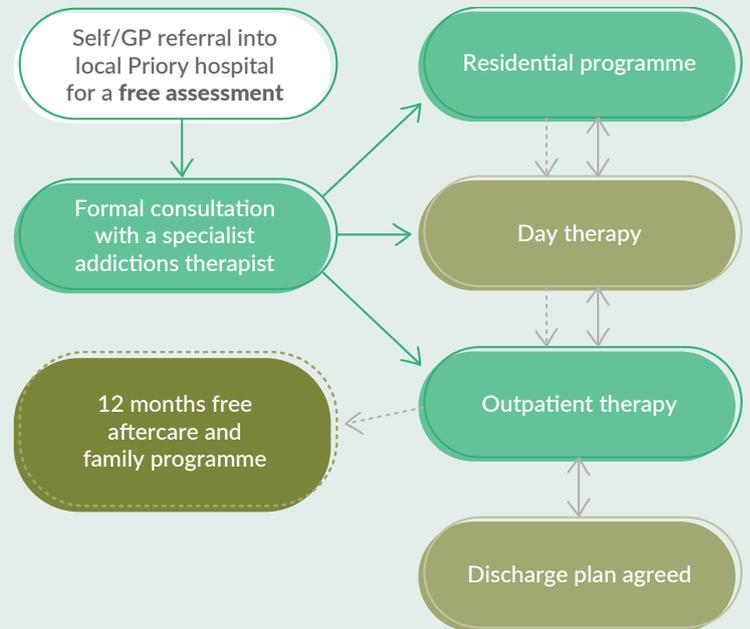

Our services offer the full range of support that is required to treat addictions effectively. This includes one-to-one or group therapy sessions, flexible day care programmes and intensive inpatient treatment, including detox if required, at any one of our nationwide centres.

No matter what the level of complexity or severity, our experts work with you in safe, discreet and therapeutic environments to tackle the causes of addiction and maximise recovery.

Depending on the nature of the addiction, often the first step of treatment is to safely manage any associated physical symptoms. Priory's hospital environments are perfectly suited to delivering medically assisted detoxifications, with a full team of doctors and specialist staff on-hand to help during this critical time. We offer one-to-one support, with constant observation and care for people, as and when they require it.

Our personalised Addiction Treatment Programmes combine personalised and group therapy sessions with rehabilitation-focused workshops and creative classes.

A range of holistic activities are also available to improve physical wellbeing.
